Forecast for Tuesday 15 Jun 2021

Weather: Mainly clear overnight but feeling quite cold with temperatures dropping close to freezing on the tops. A dry and bright start and staying mainly sunny all morning on Tuesday with high UV levels. Cloud will spread in from the west in the afternoon and thicken enough to give some light and patchy rain at times but this will mostly be by evening times. Wet at times in the evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: More than 95% in the morning, tops mostly clear overnight and during the morning, reducing to 60% later as some low cloud develops, mostly in the evening.

Visibility: Very good or excellent visibility with far reaching views in the morning but patches of cloud will fall to around 600m later becoming more broken by early evening, especially around western ranges. Generally tops will stay cloud free in the east.
